SPOTLIGHT ON COUNTY RACES

INTEREST IN POLITICS GROWS AS SEASON ADVANCES.

RIVALRY FOR SHERIFF

Six Candidates Already Announced.—Contest for Treasurer Also to Be Interesting.

With the last day for filing of candidates about two months off, more interest is being taken in the rivalry for Nodaway County offices. The county officers to be elected this fall are:

Representative; county judge, north district; county judge, south district; prosecuting attorney; sheriff; and county treasurer.

At this time, candidates have filed for sheriff, treasurer and prosecuting attorney. Others are being mentioned for these offices. The race for sheriff promises to be the most hotly contested one of any, for both Democrats and Republicans.

On the Republican ticket, Elmer W. Johnson and S. R. Dobbins are the candidates at present. Johnson made the race four years ago and was defeated in the primary.

Four in Democratic Race.

On the Democratic ticket, four have announced for sheriff. They are John Surplus, H. E. Bancroft, Ben M. Chandler and Harve England. Others being discussed as likely candidates for this office are B. F. Dougan, city marshal of Maryville, and Sherman Heflin of White Cloud township.

Ellis G. Cook is the only candidate already filed for prosecuting attorney on the Democratic ticket. Virgil Rathformer circuit clerk, has been making a canvass of the county with a view to filing for this office as an opponent of Cook. Lowell L. Livengood of Maryville, who made a creditable showing two years ago in his race for prosecuting attorney, is said to have ambitions to run again this year for the Republican nomination.

The county treasurer's race promises to be an interesting one. Mrs. Bess Thorp, who has held that office for four years, has filed as a candidate for re-election. Hugh D. McDonald of Green Township, also has announced his candidacy for this office. On the Republican ticket, Emmett F. Scott of Polk township is the only candidate for treasurer at present. It has been rumored that Emmett Bartram, Polk township collector, would also enter the race for the Republican nomination for county treasurer.

May Be Job vs. Wray.

Representatnve William Job will be a candidate again unless he decides to make the race for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant-governor. On the Republican ticket, Ernest Wray, a prominent farmer of the county, is being mentioned as a candidate. Wray was defeated by Job in the 1922 election by only a few votes.

It is not known at this time whether Judge James N. Billingsley, a member of the county court from the north district, and Judge Charles Armstrong, a member of the court from the south district, will be candidates again. It was said that both judges are anxious to retire.

In the judicial and senatorial districts, composed of the counties of Nodaway, Atchison, Worth and Gentry, Judge John M. Dawson, who is now finishing his second term as circuit judge, is regarded as a likely candidate for re-election, and Senator M. E. Ford of Maryville who is completing his first term as senator will likely run again. Judge Dawson and Senator Ford are not expected to have any opposition for the nomination.

William L. Mapel to Washington and Lee

Former Publicity Director at College Here to Head University School of Journalism.

William L. Mapel, formerly of Maryville, has accepted a position with the school of journalism, Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., according to word received here by Mrs. Mapel's parents, Mr and Mrs. H. L. Raines.

Mr. Mapel formerly was a student of the State Teachers College here and was graduated from the School of Journalism at Columbia, Mo. He was employed by the Democrat-Forum and for a year was publicity director at the State Teachers College here, going to Kent, Ohio, last fall to assume the duties of publicity director and instructor in journalism at the teachers college there.

He will assume his new duties next September. His new position will require his attentions only for the nine months' term of school at Washington and Lee, and he will be enabled to finish his work on his master's degree during the summer months. Mr. Mapel is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank J. Mapel, at Albany. The Reverend Mr. Mapel formerly was pastor of the M. E. church, South, of Maryville.

Headstones Straightened, Hedges Trimmed, New Fence and Gates Erected.

The board of trustees of the I. O. O. F. Miriam cemetery have purchased a new 24-inch lawn mower which is propelled by an electric motor, it was announced today. The machine has arrived and will be used to maintain the cemetery grounds.

Improvements have been made at the cemetery this spring, including the straightening of head stones, cutting the hedges, and erecting a new fence and gates.

The cemetery trustees are F. E. Orcutt, W. D. Williams, S. S. Murdock and Frank Spencer, sexton.

AID GIVEN TO 20 VETERANS

SECRETARY REPORTS ON RED CROSS ACTIVITIES.

NEED MORE KNITTERS

Sleeves to be Put in Sweaters—Layettes and Dresses Are Made.

The Nodaway County chapter of the American Red Cross aided twenty veterans of past wars and one civilian during the month of March, Mrs. Fern Crull, executive secretary, said today in her monthly report.

World War, Spanish War and Civil War veterans' cases were given attention by the secretary in March. These included service for five Maryville veterans of the World War, three from Ravenwood, one at Burlington Junction, one at Conception Junction, one at Skidmore, one at Hopkins and one at Parnell. Two Maryville Civil War veterans' cases were given attention, besides a widow of a Civil War veteran of Maryville and one at Magnolia, Ark.

Mrs. Crull served one Spanish-American service man who lives in Kansas City, Kan., and one World War veteran at Fort Wayne, Ind. She also made an investigation for a charity organization at Omaha.

One civilian case in Maryville was investigated. Nine cases were carried forward from February and twelve new cases opened.

Mrs. Crull said that the expenses for the chapter during March were $52.98. This included $3.15 spent for layette and girls' dress material, which were made up by the Presbyterian Young Women's Society, the American Legion Auxiliary and Mrs. Fred Diss. The layettes and dresses will be sent by the Red Cross to some insular possession.

The garage rent for the Red Cross car was $3; automobile license was $14. Seventy-five cents was invested for two meals for a transient out of funds and found to be worthy. The chapter spent $1.18 for proof reading on fifty-nine pages of Braille, which was made by Mrs. C. D. Bellows. She had completed a book of Braille, "Singing Leaves," written by Peabody.

More knitters are needed, Mrs. Crull said. The county chapter has been requested to knit sleeves into sweaters and will furnish the material.

J. E. Strickler, Skidmore, shipped twenty-two head of 1125-pound steers to the St. Joseph market yesterday that sold for $13.15.

ISSUES CALL FOR ROOMS

COLLEGE PREPARES FOR HIGH SCHOOL VISITORS.

AT LEAST 600 NEEDED

1,200 or More Contestants Must Be Provided With Beds April 26, 27 and 28.

The annual call for rooms to care for contestants and visitors to be in Maryville during the Northwest Missouri High School Contest, April 26, 27, and 28, was made today by M. E. Selecman of the College, manager of the contests.

"We will need at least 600 beds to care for the contestants," Mr. Selecman said this afternoon, "and we always need a good many more to care for visitors. Last year we had more than 1500 contestants and it was necessary to provide rooms for more than 1200 who remained in Maryville more than one night.

"Maryville has established a fine reputation for its hospitality during the contests in the past by opening up its homes to the visitors, and we feel sure that the same generous hospitality will be extended this year. The College has guaranteed to furnish meals and lodgings to all of these contestants and we must rely upon the cooperation of the people in Maryville to furnish the rooms."

Entries Next Week.

Entries will begin to come in next week, Mr. Selecman said, and assignments to rooms will be made as rapidly as the entries are received. The entries will close April 16 and all of the rooms must be listed by that time.

Every resident in Maryville who can care for two or more of these high school students is asked to call the Chamber of Commerce office at once and list the rooms. The College will pay for these rooms on the basis of 50c per person or $1.00 per bed. Miss Catherine Tobin at the Chamber of Commerce office will ask for the following information from Maryville residents, who will make their homes available for the visitors: Name, address, telephone number, number of students that can be cared for, and whether boys or girls are desired.

Will Be Notified.

After the entry list closes, the Maryville residents will be notified by postcard the names of the students assigned, the number, and when they are expected to arrive in Maryville. The College also notifies each contestant before he leaves home where he will stay in Maryville and sends him meal and lodging tickets. For this reason it is necessary to have all the rooms listed as early as possible.

Mr. Selecman pointed out this afternoon that the Spring Short Course does not open until after these contests, so Maryville residents who have reserved rooms for Short Course students may also care for contest visitors before the opening of the Short Term.

The telephone numbers of the Chamber of Commerce are Hanamo 639 and Farmers 120.

Emmett Meek Coming.

Emmett Meek, who is employed in the Santa Fe railway office at Chicago, is expected to arrive here tomorrow for a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank James, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Meek at Elmo.

Adoption of the New Type Is "Finest Thing Ever Done"

"It's the finest thing the Democrat-Forum ever has done for its readers," is the unqualified indorsement given by Maryville eye specialists and others to the new type face introduced in yesterday's issue of the Democrat-Forum. The new type is called Ionic No. 5.

Practically every person who was asked about the type had noted the change.

"Easier reading, better appearance, scientifically correct, boon to readers," were some of the phrases which greeted inquiries concerning yesterday's edition of the Democrat-Forum.

Several Maryville business men were especially warm in their praise, appreciating that from a purely selfish standpoint it was not necessary for the Democrat-Forum to incur the expenses involved in changing the type when just as many readers would take the paper were the old type kept in service.

Dr. R. C. Person: "I am favorably impressed with the new style of type being used by the Democrat-Forum. It stands out and is more distinct and appears to be larger, although careful examination has proved to me that the latter is not true. The act of reading should be especially appreciated by middle-aged readers. They are the ones who must conserve carefully their powers of sight. The younger generation will be benefitted, but not so apparently. Many old folk will again enjoy reading the newspaper because of the new type, although they were able to 'make out' the old style."

Albert Kuchs: "The new type is a great deal more legible and helps the appearance of the paper. It is a great improvement."

Dr. J. L. Baker: "The change was very much for the better in my opinion. The new type is much easier to read. It certainly does look larger."

Mrs. Fern Crull: "The change was very much for the better. It looks a lot more 'citified' this way."

G. E. Brumbaugh: "I noticed the difference last night. The new type is clean cut. It certainly does help the paper."

H. L. Raines: "It is something that optometrists' organizations throughout the country have been working on for years. The change is fine. It makes reading much easier."

Mrs. Cecil Wilson: "I noticed the difference the first thing last night. It certainly does make a difference."

Dr. C. V. Martin—"It looks good to me. I knew that 'something was the matter' when I picked up the paper. It's a mighty fine thing for old folks like me."

Paralysis Fatal to Mrs. Rachel Ulmer

Life-Long Resident of County Dies at Home Here Last Night.—Funeral Tomorrow.

Mrs. Rachel Ulmer, a life-long resident of Nodaway county, wife of John Ulmer, died at 8:30 o'clock last night at the Ulmer home on North Davis street following a year's illness of paralysis. Mrs. Ulmer had suffered two strokes, the last one in October, 1927.

The funeral will be held at the First Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the Rev. Guy L. Prather, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. The body will lie in state at the residence tomorrow until the hour of the funeral.

Rachel Majers was born Sept. 20, 1862, in Nodaway county, near Pickering. She was married July 14, 1881, to Mr. Ulmer, who survives with five children. They are: Ernest and Will Ulmer, Mrs. James Seals and Mrs. Henry Blacketer, of Maryville, and Mrs. Jack Hayes of Chicago. The latter was called here about two weeks ago. Four children, three sons and a daughter, are dead. Others surviving are three sisters and two brothers. Misses Martha and Sarah Majers and Stant Majers, of Maryville, Mrs. John Hemrick and Clarence Majers, of Kansas City, and eighteen grandchildren.

NEAR VOTE ON FARM RELIEF

CLOSING OF DEBATE NEXT TUESDAY IS ASKED IN SENATE.

MARGIN NOW 55 TO 33

Friends Believe a Presidential Veto Can be Overridden, but Not in House.

Washington, April 6.—Negotiations were begun by Senate farm bloc leaders today to work out a unanimous consent arrangement to vote next Tuesday on the pending McNary-Haugen bill.

Chairman McNary, of the Senate agricultural committee, in charge of his measure, proposed in the Senate an agreement to limit debate after 2 p. m. Tuesday but Senator Simmons, Democrat of North Carolina, objected temporarily.

Simmons said he would see if a simlar agreement could be worked out later in the day.

A check by Senator Curtis, Republican floor-leader, showed only six speeches remain to be made on the measure. Unless the agreement is reached, the Senate may be kept in session tomorrow in an effort to force a vote, instead of taking the usual week-end adjournment.

Gooding Urges Adoption.

Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, took up the farm relief debate today. He argued adoption of the McNary bill as reported by the agriculture committee.

"All the farmer is asking is protection in the same degree that manufacturers have had for years," he said. "I don't see how any Senator who favors protection for industry can vote against the McNary-Haugen bill.

"Other countries are 50 years ahead of us in helping their farmers. We have legislated prosperity for industry and labor. It is time for us to do something for agriculture."

With no word from the White House, the Senate leaders rushed the Farm Relief bill toward final passage—their polls showed a 55 to 33 majority in favor of the measure.

Fear Another Veto.

Friends of President Coolidge and farm bloc members believe or fear the President will veto the measure. Every objection he set forth in his veto mes-

Rules Against Change on Rural Route No. 1

Petition of Patrons for Re-establishment of Old Route Turned Down by Postal Department.

The postal department at Washington has ruled against the petition of patrons on rural route No. 1 out of Maryville to have the former route re-established, according to a notice received by Postmaster J. F. Hull.

A petition, signed by practically all of the patrons on the route, was presented to the local office about thirty days ago and the petition was forwarded to Washington for a decision.

A few years ago routes No. 6, 1 and 2 were combined to make routes No. 1 and 2, and the distance of route No. 1 was enlarged to 40.9 miles, the longest out of Maryville. The consolidation was made when the carrier reached the retirement age and before a man was appointed to succeed him.

The patrons of route No. 1 felt that the service on their route was slower because of the longer route. However, the postal department took the position that adequate service is being rendered on route No. 1 and that no change will be made.

FORD LANDS IN ENGLAND

AUTO MAGNATE AND WIFE PAY FIRST VISIT IN 12 YEARS.

THERE TO SEE PEOPLE

Has Little to Say About Lifting of Rubber Ban and Thinks Unemployment Is Voluntary.

London, April 6.—Henry Ford, the wealthiest visitor who ever came to London, arrived here this afternoon unheralded.

With Mrs. Ford, he entered the Carlton Hotel by a side door, but the precaution was unnecessary. The only visitor in the lobby was the United Press correspondent.

"Hello, hello," he shouted to attendants who rushed excitedly about, wondering what to do first. Mr. and Mrs. Ford walked quickly to the elevator and in a moment were in their room.

The arrival of the "King of wealth" was in sharp contrast to the arrival three weeks ago of the King of Afghanistan, whose annual income is supposed to be about $5,000,000. The king and queen of England, the Prince of Wales, the prime minister, and other dignitaries greeted the Ameer of Amanullah, while only a battery of photographers met the Fords at Southampton, where they arrived today aboard the liner Jajestic, and nobody greeted them here.

Interview Guarded.

At Southampton Ford gave an interview in which he guardedly answered: "I do not know" to almost every question asked. Only on Prime Minister Baldwin's announcement that the Stevenson rubber restriction scheme would be abandoned November 1, did Ford give a positive answer. He said he thought it was a good move.

In London Ford declined to talk to the press. His secretary's spokesman told the United Press Ford's plans were indefinite. "The trip is only a holiday," it was said.

Because it was Good Friday, the streets were deserted. If Ford sought secrecy he could not have arrived at a quieter time. Even the guests at the hotel did not know he was coming. It was obvious his staff had been instructed to maintain utmost secrecy in arranging plans for the holiday.

Ford said he would return to the United States May 3.

Greeted by Photographers.

Landing in England for the first time in twelve years, Henry Ford was greeted by a large crowd of photographers who asked him to pose for a picture.

"I don't mind," said Ford, smiling.

Then he thought of Mrs. Ford's desires in the matter.

"We'll ask her if she wants to have her picture taken; I don't mind," he repeated.

Both were photographed. The automobile manufacturer banned close-ups, however.

"I never do that," he cautioned.

Regarding the purpose of this visit, Ford said:

"I am going to see the English people. I am particularly interested in people. In fact, it's the only thing I am interested in. I have no particular plans."

Workless Don't Want It.

Ford said he was not going to the continent.

Regarding unemployment, Ford said he had heard "this morning, that there are bread lines in every city in America but there is not a bit of truth in such reports. There may be 5,000,000 or 50,000,000 unemployed, but they don't want to find work."

Ford said he had "no idea how the presidential election will come out. I know nothing about it."

London Typist Swims Straits of Gibralter

Miss Mercedes Gleitz Says She Succeeded on Fourth Attempt, Making It in 12 Hours, 25 Minutes.

Madrid, April 6.—Miss Mercedes Gleitz, the London typist, announced to newspaper correspondents at Tarifa and Tangiers today that she swam the Straits of Gibraltar yesterday.

Dispatches published in Madrid newspapers today said Miss Gleitz started her fourth attempt to swim the hitherto uncoriquerable Straits from Paloma Island, off Tarifa, at 8:55 a. m. yesterday. She arrived at Punta Leona, off the African Coast, at 9:20 p. m.—12 hours, 25 minutes for the journey of approximately 15 miles.

"The first hours seemed as though I would make no progress at all," she told correspondents, "but in the afternoon and evening I improved and felt I would succeed. I finished without difficulty."

Last October 7 Miss Gleitz announced she swam the English channel after seven unsuccessful attempts. The amateur swimming association of Great Britain refused to recognize her feat, however, because official witnesses were not present.

SIGNED WAR DECLARATION 11 YEARS AGO

Washington, April 6.—Eleven years ago today Washington was the scene of wildest turmoil as Woodrow Wilson signed the declaration of war with Germany.

He attached his signature to the document calling a nation to arms, at 1:15 p. m., April 6, 1917, while chimes of a church here played "America."

The navy and war departments issued a call for more clerks, and mobilization of national guardsmen all over the country was put under way. Millions of men joined the army, many serving until well into 1919.

The world still is struggling to recover from the setbacks of the war. This country was too busy today to give much more than casual observance to the anniversary.

5,000 POLICE FOR ELECTION

FIVE-SIXTHS OF CHICAGO FORCE TO GUARD POLLS.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

Extensive Use of City Officers Made Necessary by U. S. Refusal.—Grand Jury in Recess.

Chicago, April 6.—Five-thousand police, five-sixth's of the city's entire force, will guard Chicago's polls in the Illinois primary election next Tuesday, Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes announced today.

Commissioner Hughes said the normal detail of thirty-five detective squads would be reinforced by sixty-five special squads under Deputy Commissioner William E. O'Connor.

Several hundred special police also will be assigned to the election commissioner' office in charge of Judge Jarecki.

Hughes only statement was that "if there is to be any trouble, it probably will be in the battle over ward committeemen elections."

25th Ward Not Mentioned.

There was no mention of an extra guard in the 25th ward, the old "bloody nineteenth," where "Diamond Joe" Esposito, powerful Italian leader and Republican candidate for ward committeeman, was slain.

The extensive police plan, it was said, was made necessary by refusal of United States Attorney General John G. Sargent to authorize assignment of special deputy-marshals to Chicago's primary, which had been requested by United States Marshal Palmer Anderson at Chicago.

The federal grand jury, which earlier in the week was instructed especially regarding statues covering interference with the exercise of citizenship at election polls and attacks upon the person or property of a federal officer, adjourned yesterday until after the election.

Lindbergh's New Ship Works Fine, He Says

The Lone Eagle to Fly New Monoplane to Santa Barbara From San Diego Tomorrow.

San Diego, Cal., April 6.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was resting here today preparatory to flying his new Ryan monoplane to Santa Barbara, Cal., tomorrow.

"It worked fine," was the only comment offered by Lindbergh after he took the new craft aloft on two test flights yesterday.

Similar in many respects to the "Spirit of St. Louis," the new plane is equipped for night flying, accommodates four passengers and has a greater visability than the trans-Atlantic plane.

The new craft has a cruising radius of 1,000 miles.

Lindy's Rescuer to Try Atlantic Flight

Sergeant Detroyat Makes Trial Flight—Secrecy Surrounds His Hop-Offs in Last Two Days.

Le Bourget Airdrome, Paris, April 6.—Airdrome officials received wireless reports today that Sergeant Detroyat had landed at Dijon at 1:40 p. m., after making a trial flight toward Marseilles.

The secrecy of his preparations and his hop-offs in the last two days led to the belief Detroyat might suddenly make an unannounced start for New York.

Senator Norris wants to recall the Marines from Nicaragua and sent 'em to Chicago. Why pick on the poor fellows like that?

WINTER HAS LAST FLING

MIDDLE WEST IN GRIP OF COLD AND SNOW.

NEBRASKA IS ISOLATED

Communications Destroyed by Worst Storm in Years, Said to Be Moving East.

NEWS SENT BY RADIO TO ISOLATED POINTS.

Kansas City, April 6.—News bulletins supplied by the press services were broadcast by radio today to the area in Nebraska which a storm had isolated from the outside world.

News from all parts of the world was broadcast to the marooned section over station KMBC in Kansas City and WHO in Des Moines, Iowa.

To Freeze Tonight.

J. R. Brink, official weather observer for Maryville and vicinity, received a warning today of "frost or freezing temperature by night."

The precipitation yesterday and last night was .75 inch, Mr. Brink said.

By United Press

Belated winter swept over the northern Middle West and the near Northwest today, leaving much of the area covered with snow, and isolating large areas.

Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., were almost completely isolated. Wet, sticky snow, accompanied by wind, snapped telephone and telegraph wires. Western Iowa also found communication difficult. Trains were delayed.

Parts of Minnesota reported heavy snowfall.

Cold rain spread over most of the area not covered by snow, and the weather forecast was for more rain and lower temperatures today and tomorrow, with a cold and partly cloudy Easter.

Grows Steadily Worse.

Des Moines, Apr. 6.—Snow and high wind which has isolated Omaha and the western Iowa, was steadily growing worse late this morning, A. T. Abbott, superintendent of the Iowa division of the Rock Island railroad, told the United Press.

Worst for Years in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb. Apr. 5.—By radio to United Press in Kansas City—Omaha and eastern Nebraska were suffering today from one of the worst storms ever experienced in this section. Land communications were down and the city victually was isolated from the outside world, except for radio transmission. Heavy snows have fallen.

Accurate estimates of damage have not yet been made, but they may be heavy.

The storm struck Omaha and eastern Nebraska last night and continued until early today. More than six inches of snow fell during the night and today a light drizzle set in. The weight of the wet snow on telegraph and telephone wires completely demoralized communications and the only news Omaha received from the outside world was through radio reports broadcast from Kansas City, Des Moines and other middle western stations.

Residents Unprepared.

The storm struck with such fury that residents were wholly unprepared to face the hazards of a bitter cold spell. Hundreds of families appealed to charity agencies for coal. The heavy snowfall demoralized street car service and scores of persons were kept from their work. Automobiles were caught in the streets and stalled, their drivers forced to leave them to seek shelter from the dropping temperatures.

The postal telegraph company had only one wire working part time to Des Moines.

The storm covered the entire eastern half of the state and traveled into western Iowa.

Telephone and telegraph wires were down between Kansas City, Lincoln and Omaha. Trains between Kansas City and Nebraska points were run-

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

The Democrats of Maine in convention Tuesday instructed their delegates to vote for Al Smith for president and then adopted this resolution: "We stand for the eighteenth amendment; and for the efficient, vigorous, honest and sincere enforcement of the laws enacted thereunder, as well as all other laws."

One queer thing about running a newspaper is that the job seems harder to the fellows who gets into it than to anybody else. Most anybody can tell a newspaper man how to get out a better product at less cost and with more profit than he does and a good newspaper man is willing to listen to all suggestions because he realizes how badly brains are needed in the business. If he doesn't realize it, he is not a good newspaper man.

Perfectly Good Goat Looking for a Home

Pet That Ate Up Dynamite Now Finds It Hard to Make Friends.

Aurora, Ill., April 6.—Harry Gulich is looking for someone to untie his goat.

The trouble is, the goat swallowed some dynamite which Gulich wanted to use in blasting stumps, and there seems to be some uncertainty as to whether dynamite surrounded by goat still is effective.

Gulich placed the dynamite in his house. The goat entered the house and Harry arrived just in time to see the last stick of explosive disapearing down the animal's throat.

Gulich tied the goat, and departed in haste.

sage on the old bill has been met—except his objection to the equalization fee system of disposing of surplus farm crops. This system is the crux of the bill and Mr. Coolidge has given no indication that his objections are diminished.

Hence arrangements are being made in both houses for a determined effort to pass the measure over the veto. The farm bloc polls, made in secret, show three less than a two-thirds majority necessary to override a veto. These few additional votes are expected to be enticed away from the opposition by adoption of several comparatively unimportant amendments.

Farm bloc leaders therefore are certain that in the Senate they can pass the measure over the veto. It will come back to that body first if the President returns it, because the Senate will be the first house to act. Then it would go before the House again.

Not So Strong in House.

In the House, the situation is less encouraging. The majority there in favor of the bill is considerably lower than in the senate. Only some unforeseen development could get the bill through there over a veto.

The Senate farm bloc expects its big majority from southern Democrats who have indicated they are satisfied with the cotton provisions of the bill. A clarifying amendment may be necessary, but at least five who formerly voted against the bill have indicated they will switch because of the cotton provision.

The Campaign Log

APRIL 6

By United Press

Governor Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts, in New York, predicted that either Herbert Hoover or Governor Smith would be the next president of the United States.

George N. Peek, chairman of the executive committee of 22 of the North Central States Agricultural Conference in Washington said that Herbert Hoover was the "arch enemy of a square deal for agriculture."

Philander Knox Painter, Alabama publisher, in New York said that opposition to the Democratic candidacy of Governor Smith was decreasing in the south.

Senator Guy Goff of West Virginia has filed as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination for the state primaries in his home state, May 29.

Kentucky Republicans in convention instructed the seven delegates at large for Herbert Hoover as the Republican presidential nominee. The other delegates were either uninstructed or for Hoover.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, in the Senate defended Governor Alfred E. Smith, New York, from the recent attack made by Senator Arthur Robinson, Republican, Indiana, in connection with the Teapot Dome oil lease case.

DENIES HE IS AFTER SMITH

NOT HELPING IN A FIGHT FOR VENGEANCE, WALSH SAYS.

M'ADOO CLOSE FRIEND

"Our Views and Supporters Approximately Identical," Montana Senator Declares.

Washington, April 6.—Senator Walsh of Montana has denounced reports that he is "out to get Smith" in the Democratic presidential race.

In a letter to W. W. McDowell, Montana state Democratic chairman, made public here today, Walsh stated he entered the race on the advice of Democrats who believed political corruption would be the big issue and chose him to conduct the fight because of his Teapot Dome investigations.

"It is needless to assure those who know me as well as you do that I could not be prevailed upon to participate in such a contest or any contest to help wreak vengeance on any man," Walsh wrote in reference to published reports that he was "out to get Smith."

Walsh said his friendship for William G. McAdoo, Smith's old opponent, dates back to 1912.

"Our views upon public questions and national and international policies are approximately identical," Walsh said. "By long association our friends within the party are to no small extent identical."

Walsh reasoned therefore that it was but natural McAdoo should support him for the nomination.

"It would be more sportsmanlike, as well as more conductive to ultimate success, should the contest proceed in friendly rivalry rather than in recrimination in which the motives of opponents would, on a basis of speculation only, be recklessly impugned," he continued.

"The Republican enemy offers a more inviting opening for attack."

Walsh pledged himself to tariff revision, for farm relief; opening of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway; development of the Mississippi and Colorado rivers, and corrections in the fiscal system.

Rehearing Is Denied to Charles Birger

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—Charles Birger, notorious southern Illinois gang leader, was denied by the supreme court today a re-hearing of his conviction of murder and sentence to death.

This removes Birger's last chance to escape hanging unless Gov. Len Small intervenes in his behalf. He is under sentence to be hanged April 13 for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City.

Unfavorable Weather Halts Polar Flight

Seward, Alaska, April 6.—Unfavorable weather conditions at Point Barrow today prevented the departure of Capt. George Wilkins and Lieut. Ben Eielson on their polar flight.

A message from Wilkins to the Army radio station here said it was too cloudy in the vicinity of Point Barrow for the attempt. Wilkins said he hoped to get away tomorrow.

Missouri Picnic in California Turned Into "Jim Reed" Rally

"The Missouri picnic held at Sycamore Grove Park Sunday in Los Angeles was a Jim Reed meeting," according to Ben F. Litts of Lynwood, Cal., a former resident of this county. Mr. Litts sent the following newspaper clipping about the picnic:

Former Missourians, between 40,000 and 50,000 strong, gathered at Sycamore Grove Park yesterday for their annual picnic and reunion.

It was a picnic—the greatest in the Missouri State Society's history, until James A. Lang, president of the society, arose to introduce the first speaker on the program, John T. Gose, former assistant attorney general of Missouri.

Cheers for Reed.

Then the picnic became a huge political rally, with the sons and daughters of Missouri cheering fervently for Senator James A. Reed for president.

A total of 114 county and city registrars, scattered through the park, were kept busy through the entire day as old friends and acquaintances sought one another in the great crowd.

The program began with a musical number by the Missouri orchestra and was followed by readings and vocal selections by Missouri artists, including Helen Herbert Lowney, Harry B. Rowe and many others.

Sally Boosts Reed.

Sally Rand, film star and herself a Missourian, gave feminine expression to the Reed campaign in California as one of the speakers on the program.

She made a stirring appeal to the feminine voters to support Senator Reed.

"Women are the ones who are really most interested in who is President," she said. "They are the ones who suffer most and benefit most from general economic conditions. Women raising children desire to bring them up in a country free of political corruption and scandal.

"Senator Reed is the one man who will clean up the present conditions, and that is why I believe the women of the country are rallying to his support."

At the conclusion of the picnic it was announced that more than 3,000 Missourians had signed Reed pledge cards.

Says Allison Is not Eligible for Office

Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor Too Young to Be Seated, William Job Declares.

E. W. Allison, a lawyer at Rolla, Mo., who filed this week as a candidate for lieutenant-governor on the Democratic ticket, is ineligible to serve on account of his age, according to Representative William Job of this city. Allison will not be 35 years old until January 18, next year, and 35 is the age requirement for both governor and lieutenant governor, under the constitution of the state.

Mr. Job says:

"Mr. Allison was formerly representative from Maries County and recently has located in Rolla, where he is practicing law. The official manual of the state gives Allison's date of birth as January 18, 1894, or making him 35 years old at least ten days to two weeks after the newly elected state officers are sworn in. If he were elected he would not be seated on account of the constitutional provision as to age requirement."

Representative Job has been mentioned several times as a Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor but has not made any decision relative to entering the race. If he should not be a candidate for this state office, he will run again for representative from this county.

Outstanding characteristics of each state were in evidence along the way. These included the mules of Missouri, the Kansas sunflower, Pike's Peak, the desert, Salt Lake, and the orange groves of California. Mrs. Deatherage was given a Delta Gamma spoon which was attached to packages on a miniature automobile piled high with tourists' equipment.

"Flood Control to Benefit Big Owners"

Those Who Hold Mississippi Land Amply Able to Help Pay Costs, Says Frear.

Washington, April 6.—Over 75 per cent of the nearly 4,000,000 acres of land in the Mississippi Valley which the United States government must acquire for floodways, to control the Mississippi flood waters, is in the hands of large land-owners and corporations, Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, pointed out today in an interview with the United Press.

Furthermore, many of the same landowners and corporations own lands which will adjoin the floodways and other control works and which will enhance greatly in value through the protection afforded, he said. The government, he explained, must buy land for floodways directly or through condemnation proceedings in which jurists from the local region will determine the price.

Frear fixed the total cost in compensation to the government at $150,000,000. A large part of which will go to corporations and large landowners.

The Wisconsin member will use figures showing the extent of holdings by large corporations in his fight in the House for local contributions, in refutation of claims that the Southern Mississippi Valley is not able to contribute something toward flood control. The figures were prepared by the war department.

They show, he contends, that much of the land to be benefitted is in the hands of those who are fully able to contribute. He is not in favor of local contributions from those who cannot pay, but advocates an economic commission to investigate the whole matter so that those who can will pay.

This compensation from the government, togethear with other flood control costs, will bring the total expenditure up to a billion dollars, according to figures army engineers have prepared for Frear.

April Circuit Court Term Starts Monday

Jury Is Called for April 16—Smaller Docket Than Usual Faces Officers This Term.

The April term of the Nodaway county circuit court convenes next Monday with Judge John M. Dawson on the bench. One of the lightest dockets in recent years has been prepared by W. R. Tilson, circuit clerk.

Due to this being the busy season for farmers it will be a difficult task to get a jury composed of farmers, Judge Dawson said today, and it is probable that a minimum number of jury cases will be tried.

The jury is called for the second Monday of the term, April 16.

Gets Letter From Son in Holy Land

Earl Dorman, With Navy, Writes Mother, Mrs. Myrtle Dorman.—Enroute to Athens, Greece.

Mrs. Myrtle Dorman of this city has received a letter from her son, Earl Dorman, who joined the Navy about three years ago and is now "seeing the world with the Navy." The letter was written March 18 on the U. S. S. Detroit, just after the crew had made a visit to the Holy Land. The vessel was enroute to Athens, Greece.

Dorman was a student at the Maryville high school. He joined the navy and was stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Camp. He has been in Europe since last June.

He will be given a furlough in June and is expected home for a visit at that time.

Mrs. Dorman received several snapshots from her son which were taken in the Holy Land. One is a picture of the Sea of Galilee, another the Mount of Olives where Christ preached His sermon, while another is a view of the valley where the "five thousand were fed."

"I had the best time and spent the happiest hours I ever spent in my life on my trip through the Holy Land," Dorman wrote his mother.

He visited places where events took place in the life of Christ from His birth to His resurrection.

County Health Department Asks the Teachers to Return Blanks With Requested Information.

Teachers of Nodaway county who have not returned information regarding crippled children to the Nodaway County Health Department were requested by Miss Margaret Davison, county health nurse, to mail in the blanks before their school term ends, or as soon as possible.

The Missouri Commission for Crippled Children is anxious for records on crippled children in the state and has sent out blanks through the county health department to school teachers of the county. These blanks were sent out more than five weeks ago and only a few of them have been returned. Miss Davison requested that the teachers give this matter attention and return them with the requested information concerning crippled children in their school district.

This and That

One college student, Miss Ruth Florea, Hopkins, lost her traveling bag on the way home for Easter vacation. A truck driver saw the grip fall from the car, but could not overtake the car to tell the occupants of the loss. He turned the grip over to Chief of Police Dougan. Notebooks in the grip revealed the owner.

Miss Florea makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton Otis, at Hopkins.

Lloyd McGinness, of Graham, who is in the trucking business, owns a dog which insists on riding with him in the truck. If the truck is loaded, the dog jumps upon the top of the cab and rides there, standing up. He has never been known to fall off.

J. B. Matteson, pioneer resident of Northwest Missouri, who makes his home in Maryville, came uptown this morning and said he had some hard luck. He exhibited a large key-winding Elgin watch, in which the crystal was shattered. Mr. Matteson said he had carried this watch since 1887 and this morning was the first time he had ever broken a crystal. The watch had fallen on a cement floor.

Easter In Your Church

If a Man Dies Shall He Live Again?

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Series for April 8, 1928. Read Mark 16.

Wm. Southern, Jr.

This afternoon when I went to my study and began to read the story of the resurrection as told in the last chapter of the gospel of Mark, the room was dark, so dark in the middle of the day that I turned on the lights. Outside the rain was pelting on the windows. It was a cold rain falling on a dead world.

I had probably been working for an hour when I suddenly realized that the electric lights above my chair were no longer furnishing the light by which I was reading. Surprised I looked out of the window. It was another world I saw. The sun was shining brightly. It seemed to me that within the afternoon the brown dead grass of the winter time had suddenly become a glorious green, I could hear the chirping of a bird in the vines above the window. All of a sudden a dead world had become a live world.

I had been searching my mind and reading from books to get something about Easter time. I had been pondering over the question asked by that ancient Hebrew, Job, whose story is said to be the first book of the Old Testament ever written. Job never got while he lived the answer to the question which rang in his mind as it had rung in the minds of all those who lived before him and has run in the minds of all those who have lived since his day. If a man die, and we all know that we are going to die, shall he live again?

Mark does not give a detailed story of the resurrection of Jesus. None of the others who wrote of his life and death gives such a story, nobody saw him rise from the cold slab upon which he had been laid and none saw him leave the tomb. Yet as Paul says, the resurrection is one of the best attested events of history. It is attested more in detail and more to the point than many of the things of history which we readily accept.

It seemed to me this afternoon that when the darkness of a winter day within an hour changed into the bright sunshine and soft breezes of the coming spring, I was justified in making the analogy and in understanding a little better that light always follows darkness, that life always follows death. Yes, I believe that if and when a man dies he shall live again.

There is no effort here to give you a theological discourse. I could not do it if I wanted to and would not if I could. Splitting theological hairs and getting excited because I can not make others believe as I do, does not appeal to me. I have a very sympathetic feeling for the man who honestly tries to think things through and can not convince himself. As a matter of fact none of us know whether there is a life after death or not. Nobody has yet come back from the grave to tell us about it except Jesus and he did not tell where he had been nor what he saw. In the Gospel of Barnabas, which is not printed in the canon as a part of our New Testament, are several chapters which do tell of the three days between his death and the resurrection. The Barnabas account of the trial and crucifixion is one of the best I have read, but no gathering of men passing on old manuscripts, dared to include the Barnabas account of the 36 hours while Jesus lay in the tomb.

Before Jesus came there was even less firm belief in another life. To the old Hebrews the best they could imagine was a kind of a shadowy realm where the spirits of the dead gathered together. Jesus brought the positive assertion of a life hereafter and died and rose again to show us.

Mark's story of the resurrection attests its truth as much by what he does not say and by his picture of the thoughts and feelings of those who loved Jesus best as by his actual record. First the women. They expected to find the tomb closed and if fortunate enough to get someone to roll away the stone, to pay their tribute by lovingly placing rare spices upon the body. They found the tomb open and they were so astonished that they fled. Peter did not believe it and came running. He ran into the tomb. I should like to have seen the expression on his face. Thomas would not believe that Jesus had risen and demanded absolute proof.

Jesus had failed to get across even to these what he meant. He had been unable to put over the idea of the spiritual as against the material. They never did get it until after the resurrection.

We celebrate Easter in a variety of ways and with a variety of thought. Although to some of us it may bring a single idea of Jesus and the resurrection yet unconsciously and without realizing it at all we are celebrating life after death. It would seem ridiculous to us to celebrate Easter in January, in mid-winter. Easter is the beginning of spring, the time when the old earth begins to get restless and throw back the covers, when the warm rains come to waken the dead grass and to bring to life once more the germs of life ,to awaken the seed which has lain cold and dormant beneath the snow and ice, to start once more the sap in the trees which violates the law of gravitation and pulses from the roots up and up, thirty or forty of even more feet to the tiniest twig of the topmost limbs and brings life, which bursts forth into buds and clothes the bare, gray tracery with green and living leaves.

Easter wakens the ground hog who has slept the winter through. It also wakens the snakes in the rocky dens and the bear in his snug winter nest beneath the fallen brush. Easter was a heathen holiday celebrating the coming of spring before it was a Christian festival symbolic to us, not only of the wakening of the old earth from the winter sleep but of the resurrection of life. All about us nature is singing "There is a life after death" and man responds to that song, the measure of the music is in his veins and he is by no means willing to agree that man was created to live a few years, to grow into manhood, to work at maturity for a generation, to die gradually, lose his hair and teeth and sight and finally to die and become dust again without a hope of an Easter day.

I cannot prove this to you by mathematics, neither by psychology, I do not even know what psychology is, I can not prove to you that there is another life to come after I die but I believe it to be true. Man was not made to be the one exception to the universal laws of nature.

If a man die shall he live again? asked Job. Jesus wrote for us the answer in his own life and death and resurrection and in the life and death and resurrection of everything about us every day.

THE RESURRECTION.

Lesson Text.—Mark 16:1-8, 19, 20 Read the entire chapter.

16:1. And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2. And very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun was risen.

3. Any they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the tomb?

4. and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back; for it was exceedingly great.

5. And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, arrayed in a white robe; and they were amazed.

6. And he saith unto them, Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, who hath been crucified; he is risen; he is not here; behold, the place where they laid him!

7. But go, tell his disciples and Peter, He goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

8. And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them; and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

19. So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken unto them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God.

20. And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed Amen.

GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVED IN ROME TODAY

Rome, April 6.—Solemn services, attended by multitudes of Americans, were held in all the principal churches today on Good Friday. The chief ceremonies occurred in St. Peter's and St. John Lateran and The Cardinalarchpriests of both basilicas officiated.

Vespers were sung in St. Peter's at which the sacred relics were exposed while a solemn procession in which the pieces of the true cross were carried, took place in the church of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem.

Americans could be seen traversing Rome all day in an effort to be present at as many ceremonies as possible. Most of them were congregated in St. John Lateran, where the service was especially impressive and where the heads, which tradition says are the heads of St. Peter and St. Paul, were exposed. The boards of the table on which Christ gave the "last supper" also were shown for the adoration of the faithful.

Churches Filled All Day

The churches were filled all day with pilgrims from every nation. After the morning services, which were held with great reposeful solemnly to signify the mourning of the church for the crucifixion, many thousands pilgrimaged to the great basilicas to participate in the indulgences. Special indulgences were given to those who attended St. Peter's where the cardinal-penitentiary, Cardinal Fruhwirth, in person bestowed the much-sought spiritual favors. His Eminence, while vespers were sung sat in a confessionbox with a long rod in his hand. As each applicant approached him, they knelt and were touched by the rod.

The pastor of a church in Iowa suggests that the men come dressed in overalls and the women in some attire to match. Evidently he wants proof that they're working at their religion.

THE RESURRECTION

When the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, with Salome and Mary, the mother of James, set out for the tomb where Jesus lay. They carried spices to complete the embalming of the body, and asked themselves how they were to move the stone which blocked the entrance of the tomb.
As they paused before the tomb, the three women were surprised to find that the stone had been rolled away. They entered to find an angel sitting on the right side.
"Be not amazed," the angel said. "Ye seek Jesus the Nazarene, who hath been crucified. He is risen - he is not here. Behold the place where they laid him. But, go! Tell his disciples and Peter, he goeth before you into Galilee. There shall ye see him as he said unto you." Trembling and astonished the three women left the tomb.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Margaret Odell is found strangled. Skeel's finger prints are found in the apartment, but Vance believes Skeel had been hiding in a closet while the strangler did his work. The thing that baffles police is the side door to the alley, which had been bolted on the inside the night before and was found the same way in the morning. Mannix, Dr. Lindquist and Cleaver all lie about their whereabouts the night of the murder. Spotswoode, who had called on the girl, had rushed back to her door at the sound of a scream, but had been reassured that everything was all right. Then Skeel is found strangled, after he had promised to tell who murdered the girl. Heath arrests Jessup, but Vance promises to demonstrate how Skeel could have entered and left through the side door and left it bolted on the inside.

CHAPTER XLIV.

Vance shepherded us ceremoniously to chairs, and cocked his eye at the sergeant.

"You will be so good as to rest here until you hear me knock at the side door. Then come and open it for me." He went toward the archway. "Once more I personate the departed Mr. Skeel; so picture me again en grande tenue—sartorially radiant. . . . The curtain ascends."

He bowed and, stepping from the reception-room into the main hall, disappeared round the corner into the rear passageway.

Heath shifted his position restlessly and gave Markham a questioning, troubled look.

"Will he pull it off, sir, do you think?" All jocularity had gone out of his tone.

"I can't see how." Markham was scowling. "If he does, though, it will knock the chief underpinning from your theory of Jessup's guilt."

"I'm not worrying," declared Heath. "Mr. Vance knows a lot; he's got ideas. But how in hell—?"

He was interrupted by a loud knocking on the side door. The three of us sprang up simultaneously and hurried round the corner of the main hall. The rear passageway was empty. There was no door or aperture of any kind on either side of it. It consisted of two blank walls; and at the end, occupying almost its entire width, was the oak door which led to the court.

Vance could have disappeared only through that oak door. And the thing we all noticed at once—for our eyes had immediately sought it—was the horizontal position of the bolt-handle. This meant that the door was bolted.

Heath was not merely astonished—he was dumbfounded. Markham had halted abruptly, and stood staring down the empty passageway as if he saw a ghost. After a momentary hesitation Heath walked rapidly to the door. But he did not open it at once. He went down on his knees before the lock and scrutinized the bolt carefully. Then he took out his pocket-knife and inserted the blade into the crack between the door and the casing. The point halted against the inner molding, and the edge of the blade scraped upon the circular bolt.

There was no question that the heavy oak casings and moldings of the door were solid and well fitted, and that the bolt had been securely thrown from the inside. Heath, however, was still suspicious, and, grasping the doorknob, he tugged at it violently. But the door held firmly.

At length he threw the bolt-handle to a vertical position and opened the door. Vance was standing in the court, placidly smoking and inspecting the brickwork of the alley wall.

"I say, Markham," he remarked, "here's a curious thing. This wall, d' ye know, must be very old. It wasn't built in these latter days of breathless efficiency. The beauty-loving mason who erected it laid the bricks in Flemish bond instead of the Running—or Stretcher—bond of our own restless age.

"And up there a bit"—he pointed toward the rear yard—"is a Rowlock and Checkerboard pattern. Very neat and very pretty—more pleasing even than the popular English Cross bond. And the mortar joints are all V-tooled. . . . Fancy!"

Markham was fuming.

"Damn it, Vance! I'm not building brick walls. What I want to know is how you got out here and left the door bolted on the inside."

"Oh, that!" Vance crushed out his cigaret and re-entered the building. "I merely made use of a bit of clever criminal mechanism. It's very simple, like all truly effective appliances—oh, simple beyond words. I blush at its simplicity. . . . Observe!"

He took from his pocket a tiny pair of tweezers to the end of which was tied a piece of purple twine about four feet long. Placing the tweezers over the vertical bolt-handle, he turned them at a very slight angle to the left and then ran the twine under the door so that about a foot of it projected over the sill. Stepping into the court, he closed the door.

The tweezers still held the bolt-handle as in a vise, and the string extended straight to the floor and disappeared under the door into the court. The three of us stood watching the bolt with fascinated attention. Slowly the string became taut, as Vance gently pulled upon the loose end outside, and then the downward tug began slowly but surely to turn the bolt-handle. When the bolt had been thrown and the handle was in a horizontal position, there came a slight jerk on the string. The tweezers were disengaged from the bolt-handle, and fell noiselessly to the carpeted floor. Then as the string was pulled from without, the tweezers disappeared under the crack between the bottom of the door and the sill.

"Childish, what?" commented Vance, when Heath had let him in. "Silly, too, isn't it? And, yet, Sergeant dear, that's how the deceased Tony left these premises last Monday night. . . . But let's go into the lady's apartment, and I'll tell you a story. I see that Mr. Spively has returned from his promenade; so he can resume his telephonic duties and leave us free for a causerie."

"When did you think up that hocus-pocus with the tweezers and string?" demanded Markham irritably, when we were seated in the Odell living-room.

"I didn't think it up at all, don't y' know," Vance told him carelessly, selecting a cigaret with annoying deliberation. "It was Mr. Skeel's idea. Ingenious lad—eh, what?"

"Come, come!" Markham's equanimity was at last shaken. "How can you possibly know that Skeel used this means of locking himself out?"

"I found the little apparatus in his evening clothes yesterday morning."

"What!" cried Heath belligerently. "You took that outa Skeel's room yesterday during the search, without saying anything about it?"

"Oh, only after your ferrets had passed it by. In fact, I didn't even look at the gentleman's clothes until your experienced searchers had inspected them and relocked the wardrobe door. Y' see, Sergeant, this little thingumbob was stuffed away in one of the pockets of Skeel's dress waistcoat, under the silver cigaret case.

"I'll admit I went over his evening suit rather lovin'ly. He wore it, y' know, on the night the lady departed this life, and I hoped to find some slight indication of his collaboration in the event. When I found this little eyebrow-plucker, I hadn't the slightest inkling of its significance. And the purple twine attached to it bothered me frightfully, don't y' know.

"I could see that Mr. Skeel didn't pluck his eyebrows; and even if he had been addicted to the practice, why the twine? The tweezers are a delicate little gold affair—just what the ravishin' Margaret might have used; and last Tuesday morning I noticed a small lacquer tray containing similar toilet accessories on her dressing-table near the jewel case.—But that wasn't all."

He pointed to the little vellum waste-basket beside the escritoire, in which lay a large crumpled mass of heavy paper.

"I also noticed that piece of discarded wrapping-paper stamped with the name of a well-known Fifth Avenue novelty shop; and this morning, on my way down-town, I dropped in at the shop and learned that they make a practice of tying up their bundles with purple twine.

"Therefore, I concluded that Skeel had taken the tweezers and the twine from this apartment during his visit here that eventful night. . . . Now, the question was: Why should he have spent his time tying strings to eyebrow pluckers? I confess, with maidenly modesty, that I couldn't find an answer.

"But this morning when you told of arresting Jessup, and emphasized the rebolting the side door after Skeel's departure, the fog lifted, the sun shone, the birds began to sing. I became suddenly mediumistic: I had a psychic seizure. The whole modus operandi came to me —as they say—in a flash. . . . I told you, Markham old thing, it would take spiritualism to solve the case."

ELMO.—A high wind, some hail and lots of rain hit Elmo Tuesday evening but did little damage. A large piece of timber that was bracing the barn on Luther Johnston's farm was blown down and fell on a Ford roadster, crushing the top and smashing it up pretty bad.

Charlie Abbott, who was burned badly last week when a can of gasoline explodid, is getting along as well as can be expected. He suffers with one hand considerable and he thinks he is going to lose the tip of his nose.

Mrs. Luther Johnston left for Bridgeport, Neb., Tuesday. Mr. Johnston will go as soon as he finishes some work on his farm south of town.

C. E. Hull New School Director at Pickering

Superintendent, Principal and Primary Teacher Re-Elected—Some Flood Control Work.

By O. G. NULL.

PICKERING.—At a called meeting of the board of education on Wednesday evening C. E. Hull was sworn in as director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. E. Johnson, one of the newly elected directors.

John Jahne was re-elected superintendent and Floyd Billingsley re-elected principal of the high school. Miss Huldah Lunte was re-elected as teacher of the primary department. One high school position and two grade positions will probably be filled at a meeting called for next Monday evening.

C. E. Hull, the section foreman on the Burlington railway, has been using a team and scraper, in addition to his crew with shavels, in deepening and widening the branch which runs through the south part of town, where it crosses the railroad right-of-way. This will in a measure prevent the flooding of the switch yard and adjacent properties after heavy rains, as it will allow a much larger volume of water to pass under the railroad culverts.

Everett Florea has been operating the tractor and J. D. McGinness the township grader in opening some surface drainage ditches on the T. L. Wilderman and W. E. Johnson farms, northeast of town, during the past two weeks, and on Wednesday did some ditching for A. C. Simmons with the same outfit.

The splendid rain which fell here Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning will be of great benefit to grass and small grain as both were in need of moisture.

The most of the oat crop is planted and has been put in good shape as the ground has worked so well. A large amount of grass seed has been sown and will now have moisture to start quickly. Some damage to fall wheat and spring seeding has resulted from the high winds of the past week. Fall wheat for the most part is in good shape, though weak spots show in many fields.

The wind blew with great force for a few minutes Wednesday afternoon just before the rain and did some damage by overturning hen houses and other small buildings and breaking limbs off shade trees. A large window in the place occupied by Robert Gumm and family was blown in and also a window in the upper hall of the school house was broken by the wind. The telephone lines were badly tangled and several poles blown down throughout the country.

Mrs. Albert Leonard and daughter, Florence, of Webster Groves, Mo., returned to their home Friday after a two weeks' visit here at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Crowson, parents of Mrs. Leonard.

Caples Wilson moved last week from his farin northeast of town to a property he acquired recently in the east part of Maryville.

Mrs. O. G. Null and granddaughter, Mary Katherine Null, went to St. Joseph last Friday and spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Null's daughter, Mrs. Lester Ellis, and Mr. Ellis. On Saturday evening they attended the dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. A. B. McGlothlan in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Null, who were married in St. Joseph on Friday evening.

A deal was consumated here this week whereby Raymond Wagner purchased the barber shop of O. J. Gray and he will conduct the business in the Odd Fellows Hall in the space which was occupied by Mr. Grey. Mr. Wagner will be assisted by Fred Garten.

New Dirigible Being Finished in Germany

Dr. Hugo Eckener Plans Flight to U. S. and Back Without Stop—Around World Later.

Friedeichshafen, Germany, April 6.—In a hangar on the short of Lake Constance, Germany's new giant dirigible, is being completed.

In June, Dr. Hugo Eckener, who flew the "Los Angeles" (then ZR 3) to the United States in 1924, will soar over Germany in the first trial flight of the new-born LZ127, christened Count Zeppelin.

In July or August, Dr. Eckener intends to fly to the United States and back to Germany without landing. Should some of his passengers desire to "drop in" at Lakehurst, N. J., they may be permitted to do so by the parachute method.

Thereafter, if Dr. Eckener's dreams come true, he will attempt to fly around the world in twelve days by way of Vladivostok, Tokio, California, Lakehurst and the Atlantic. He is prepared to carry twenty passengers, three of whom will be newspaper correspondents. In the same year he hopes to fly from Lakehurst to San Diego.

Ultimately, the Gargantuan airship is destined for regular service between Spain and Argentina.

"The dirigible will fly from Germany to the United States in three days," Dr. Eckener told the correspondent, "and cover the return journey in two days, thanks to favorable winds."

In the future, according to this expert's opinion, airships will fly about six miles above the earth, where air pressure is greatly reduced, rendering possible to flight from Germany to the United States in fifteen hours.

The dirigible is 770 feet long and 100 feet wide. Five engines, suspended in five gondolas, produce 2,800 h. p. The airship is one and a half times as large as the Los Angeles.

Jury Skeptical About Dam Dynamite Theory

Los Angeles, April 6.—The coroner's jury attempting to fix responsibility for the disastrous St. Francis Dam collapse today studied the "dynamite theory" and was openly skeptical.

The theory that an explosion might have shattered the Dam was advanced by Frank Reiber, San Francisco consulting engineer, who admitted there was no direct evidence to support it.

The discharge of 150 pounds of dynamite about six feet under the surface of the water would have been sufficient to wreck the dam, Reiber estimated.

The engineer was cross examined by members of the jury, who showed themselves skeptical of the theory.

The preponderance of evidence produced at the hearing has been that the failure of the dam, which cost more than 300 lives, was due to the fact that its foundation rested on undependable rock formation.

Storm Warnings in Southeast.

Washington, April 6. — Southeast storm warnings were ordered displayed by the weather bureau today from Pensacola to Tampa, Fla. A secondary disturbance off the Louisiana coast moving northeastward to cause strong southeast winds this afternoon and early tonight was noted.

A Farewell Dose of Winter.

Chicago, April 6.—Winter gave the Plains States and the near Northwest an unseasonable farewell dose of snow and cold weather today.

Wet, clinging snow covered large areas of Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, and rain and mist spread over most of the rest of the Middle West. The forecast was for heavy precipitation and colder today and tomorrow.

The heavy snow and high wind which followed it crippled wire communication and caused extensive damage in Nebraska. Western Iowa also suffered.

The center of the storm apparently was near Council Bluffs and Omaha. It was spreading eastward today, and by tomorrow, the weather bureau forecast, the Lakes States and Ohio Valley will be visited by rains and low temperatures.

Easter to Be Cold.

Easter over most of the district will be cold and alternately fair and cloudy, it was predicted.

The snowfall was reported at five inches in Council Bluffs and Omaha. Telegraph wires were all down between Atlantic and Omaha.

Several inches of snow were reported at Sioux City, and snow still was falling today.

Only a few telephone lines were open between Des Moines and eastern Iowa, reports from the Iowa capital said.

The rain and cold extended south into Missouri, the weather bureau here reported.

Snow in Storm-Swept Area.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—Rain and snow fell today in the area that was swept yesterday by tornadoes, rain and hail storms.

As districts in Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas began to rebuild after suffering unestimated damage from the wind, rain and floods, additional rain hampered their efforts.

In Kansas snow was falling and further south rain, that started with the storm Thursday morning, continued to fall. It appeared probable extensive damage would be done to crops and lowland property by swollen creeks by the rain.

Seven are known to have been killed in the windstorm that wrecked homes and oil derricks in Kansas and the floods that inundated Shawnee, Owla., after a cloudburst.

At Shawnee nearly seven inches of rain fell in two hours and the resultant water left more than 200 families homeless and at least 100 homes washed from their foundations.

Property damage in Shawnee alone will total more than one million dollars, it was believed and damage over the affected area will almost certainly reach several millions.

Weather predictions today showed unsettled weather will continue with light rain but probably no wind.

Cold Wave Adds Discomfort.

Shawnee, Okla., April 6.—A late cold wave added to the discomfort today of Shawnee, struggling to care for those left temporarily homeless in the path of a freshet yesterday.

While civic and charitable agencies worked to reconstruct the area swept by a creek turned into a wall of water, the exact toll of life remained in doubt.

Four bodies had been recovered and the missing were listed variously from four to six.

Civic leaders were busy today collecting a fund of $50,000 estimated as an immediate need to care for the scores of families dependant upon the city for shelter until homes could be rebuilt. Aid has been asked from the American Red Cross.

Those who could not find refuge in private homes were being housed and fed by relief organizations, social agencies and churches.

Meanwhile, the city, merchants and individuals set to the labor of salvaging property and automobiles washed into gullies and clearing traffic ways.

Negro Slain After Girl Fights Him Off

St. Louis Police Summoned by Escort, Shoot Attacker.—Thought It Hold-Up, Man Says.

St. Louis, April 6.—A white girl fought off the attack of a negro for fifteen minutes here early today until St. Louis police arrived and fatally wounded the attacker.

The girl is Miss Mary Leota Ray, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ray, of Hardin, Ill. Her slain attacker was identified as Emmett Winfrey, 20, negro porter.

The attempted attack upon Miss Ray occurred after she returned from a dance where she had met William Grellner, an automobile salesman. As they sat conversing in Grellner's automobile, Winfrey leaped upon the running board, shouting:

"Open that door, damn you, and stick up your hands."

Grellner later related that he thought it was nothing but an attempted hold-up, and explained he jumped out of his car on the opposite side from the negro and ran to a nearby filling station where he called police.

What occurred after that was told by Miss Ray.

"I got out of the car and ran toward my home," she said, "but he overtook me and dragged me into a shed. I fought him with all the power I had but he hit me in the face, knocked me down and choked me.

"'I'll cut your throat if you make any noise;'" Miss Ray said the man told her.

Police arrived to find Grellner's car deserted. He then admitted he was accompanied by Miss Ray and directed them to her home. She was not there. Then they learned from a roomer that he had heard a woman's screams.

By aid of a flashlight, police made their way to the shed and the light revealed the attempted attack, they reported. As Winfrey fled when the flash light rays lighted the shed, detectives Antrim and Ferguson fired three shots, each mortally wounding Winfrey in the back, chest and abdomen.

Business Men Will Urge Larger Tax Reduction

Representative of U. S. Chamber of Commerce to Be Heard.—Close on Automobile Tax.

Washington, April 6.—United States chamber of commerce representatives will be given an opportunity to present their argument for larger tax reduction before the Senate finance committee next Monday, chairman Smoot announced today.

The chamber wants to raise rather than lower the $289,000,000 amount fixed in the House tax bill. Secretary of Treasury Mellons wants a $201,000,000 maximum.

Automobile manufacturers were scheduled to appear Monday to present their case for repeal of the automobile tax, but asked postponement of their testimony until Wednesday.

The committee agreed on several administrative provisions of the House measure.

A close fight over the repeal of the 3 per cent automobile tax, one of the provisions of the House bill was in prospect today.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon opposes repeal on the ground it will benefit only the automobile manufacturers and not the owners. So far, his recommendations have been supported by the Republican majority on the committee.

The Democratic minority, however, favors repeal of the automobile tax and will be supported by at least one Republican—Senator Couzens of Michigan, who has advocated repeal of the tax ever since he came to congress.

Since there are 11 Republicans on the committee and 9 Democrats, Couzens' shift to the Democratic side will result in a deadlock unless some other member changes his position.

FARMER ENDS LION HUNT BY KILLING PREY

Animal, Escaping From Texas Train, Gets Head Stuck Fast in Highway Culvert.

Dallas, Tex., Apr. 6.—Carl Peyton, a farmer living at Rolett, twenty miles east of Dallas, was victor in the widespread lion hunt conducted in this section today after a female lion escaped from the baggage car of a Katy passenger train.

Peyton found the animal with its head stuck fast in a highway culvert. He fired ten shots into the animal before killing it.

Killing of the trimal, which had been shipped by the Dallas zoo to a zoo at Independence, Mo., came about after a widespread search by police, express company employes and volunteer lion hunters.

It was believed the animal had attempted to crawl into the culvert in pursuit of a rabbit. It was clawing the ground furiously when Peyton came upon it.

Peyton said he speculated a few minutes on the possibilities of roping it alive. But decided to play safe shooting it.

There was a sigh of relief in the fashionable Highland Park residential section when word of the lion's death was received. Merchants in that district reported that business took a slump this morning because housewives feared to leave home.

A fitting burial for the lion will be provided by Dallas zoo attendants.

No one was in the baggage car at the time the lion escaped. It was believed the door to the car was jarred open when the train stopped at Highland Park station.

The lion, christened "Xanthippe," called "Annie" for short, was popular with attendants at the Dallas zoo because of her docility and good nature. Zoo keepers were at a loss to understand how she broke from her steel enforced shipping crate.

New Ford Production Reaches 2,000 Daily

Auto Manufacturer Announces Daily Output Will Reach 5,000 by July 1.

Detroit, Apr. 6.—There is every reason to believe production of the new model Ford automobile will reach five thousand a day by July 1, it was announced today by the Ford Motor Company. The present daily production of fifteen assembly plants throughout the United States is 2,000 a day, it was said.

Bolivar—Cheese factories are increasing rapidly in this section of the state, and the outlook is favorable for extensive dairy development, according to Ralph Gravely, editor of the Bolivar Free Press.

ASHLAND WINS FROM OREGON

HOLT COUNTY CAGERS BEATEN IN NATIONAL TOURNAMENT.

SCORE WAS 41 TO 22

Ankle of Stalcup, Brilliant Oregon Center, Is Injured and Kentucky Team Is Victor.

Chicago, April 6.—The Oregon High School basketball team, Missouri state champion, was defeated in the third round of the National Interscholastic basketball tournament here last night by the Ashland, Ky., high school cagers, 41 to 22.

The Oregon team made a good fight of it in the first period, which ended 7 to 6 for Ashland, but in the second half the smarter Colonels ran away with them. The half ended 14 to 11 in favor of Kentucky. The Missourians had the Southerners puzzled during the first frames, but after the intermission it wasn't so hard for Ashland to break through. Stalcup played a wonderful game for Oregon, doing the bulk of the defensive work as well as most of the offensive. During the greater part of the game a bad ankle had him in pain.

Fought to Finish.

The Kentucky team held the ball and played a slow breaking game for the first four minutes of the second half. Stalcup's ankle doubled up under him and he had to take time out to have it braced. Dreher kept Oregon in the running with a one-handed shot, but Ashland increased the count to 23-13.

McIntyre sank a goal and the third quarter ended with the count 27 to 15.

The Show-Me boys' defense was broken and Strother stood under the basket to make a crip shot entirely uncovered. Oregon tried its best and Huff sank a basket. Allen dropped one in from way out and a free throw afterwards. Stalcup got one for Oregon. Ashland started stalling and trying long shots. It was obvious Oregon didn't have a chance, but they fought to the finish.

Today's Games.

Chicago, April 6.—New Hanover high school of Wilmington, S. C., entered the semi-final consolation round of the University of Chicago's National Interscholastic basketball tournament today by defeating Rock Springs, Wyo., 38 to 25.

In the second consolation game, Wilson high school of Portsmouth, Va., nosed out Naugatuck, Conn., 39 to 37.

Two outstanding favorites, Viena, Ga., and the sensational Carr Creek, Ky., five, will meet today in the quarter final round of the tournament.

The Georgia team, a pre-tournament favorite, entered the fourth round by defeating Oak Park, Ill., 40 to 18. The Illinois five offered little opposition.

The Kentuckians, who played their first basketball game in a regular gymnasium in the state district tournament only two weeks ago, survived the third round by defeating Bristol, Conn., 19 to 13.

TRACK PLANS ARE CHANGED

SAVANNAH QUINTUPLE MEET OFF BECAUSE OF WEATHER.

PREPARE FOR TRENTON

Spoofhounds, Forced to Train Indoors, Make Plans to Enter Their First Meet Friday.

The Spoofhound track and field squad of the Maryville High School was entered in the quintuple meet at Savannah today but it was called off because of rain, snow and cold. The local tracksters now are preparing on the high school gym floor for the next scheduled track meet of the season, at Trenton next Friday.

Coach Wallace Croy practically had selected his team to participate in today's event at Savannah, which included about fifteen men from a squad of forty, most of whom have been given the preliminary training to loosen up their muscles. Although the weather had allowed earlier outdoor practice than for many years, the athletes had been confined inside most of this week because of the disagreeable weather.

Coach Croy was planning on taking about fourteen or fifteen men to Savannah, men who had rounded into form earlier than others on the squad. He had selected the following from his squad for today's meet:

Broad jump: Harry Trullinger, Harold Daniels, Charles Phipps.

High jump: Richard Sellers, Roland Russell, Ralph Hahn.

Shot put: Vilas Glover, Irvin Jones.

Discus: Wesley Dowden, Ralph Hahn, Irvin Jones, Ed Strough.

Half mile: Donald Warner, Harold Trueblood, Charles Hitt.

Dashes: Harry Wilson, 100 yards; Harold Daniels, 100 yards; Roland Russell, 220; Leland Smith, 220; Gerald Stults and Charles Phipps. The half mile relay team will be chosen from these men.

Quarter mile: Homer Warner, Harold Daniels, Donald Warner.

Pole vault: Richard Sellers.

Low hurdles: Harry Wilson, Roland Russell, Leland Smith.

For the relays the following have shown promise:

Ed Strough, Wilson, Daniels, Russell, L. Smith, Stults and Phipps.

Don Smith has been the only man the coaches have picked for the high hurdles.

The Fields twins, Harold and Richard, have been showing up to good advantage in relays and distance runs and others to be reckoned with before the season is over are John Hall, dashes, 440 and relay; Walter Taylor, distance events; and Robert Wray in the dashes.

The Spoofhounds probably will take in another meet. An invitation has been received to participate in the Fortescue first annual invitation meet May 21 and Coach Croy probably will take a team there. Hugh Graham will be starter at the grade meet there the day before and a relay team from the Maryville grade schools may be entered.

Two Local Athletes Return From Drake

"Buster" Strong Wins Honors in Swimming and Porterfield Cockayne in Football.

Morris ("Buster") Strong and Porterfield Cockayne, two Maryville youths prominent in Drake University athletics, arrived home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock after catching rides from Des Moines. They will be here until Monday, when they will return to school.

Strong has been chosen to represent the Y. M. C. A. at Des Moines in the national swimming meet at Chicago, Friday and Saturday of next week. He brought home a silver loving cup, emblematic of first place in the fancy diving contest in the "Y" meet at Des Moines, and a medal for second in the 40 yard free style dash, in which he was nosed out by only a bare margin.

He will be entered in the fancy diving and 150 yard relay events at Chicago, he and four other men being the Des Moines representatives. Several of America's fastest swimming stars will be entered in this meet, including Johnny Weismuller, Illinois A. C.; Colbath, Northwestern; Peterson, Illinois A. C., and Spence, Brooklyn Y. M. C. A.

Strong also is out for track this spring, trying out in two events, broad jump and 50 yard dash. He said that the latter event is being run in about 5.1 by Drake athletics. This is about two-tenths of a second faster than Maryville men have been clocked in the same distance thus far this year. Maryville will be entered in the Drake relays on April 27 and 28.

Strong said that Cockayne is without a doubt the strongest man that Drake has in football. He is out for spring football and is running away from everyone on the field, he said.

"Why the Laundry Should Do My Washing"

Mrs. Arthur W. Thomas Wins First Prize of $10,000.

Winning the first national prize of $10,000 came as a surprise to Mrs. Thomas, she labored long and hard in preparing her essay but contemplated only a small prize.

Mrs. Thomas is 21 years of age, the wife of a civil engineer, and the happy mother of two sons, Tommy Bruce, two years of age, and Neil, six months of age.

"I am very much devoted to my little family and give practically all of my time to their interests," said Mrs. Thomas.

"I realize that my two boys are my 'biggest problem,' and the laundry frees me from a burden of work and permits me to spend more time mothering them," said Mrs. Thomas.

The prize winning letter of Mrs. Thomas on the subject, "Why The Laundry Should Do My Washing," is printed on this page.

"I AM a happy wife. I am a happy mother. I send my washing to the laundry.

"Gone are the hours of stooping over a steaming wash tub. Gone is the aching back and the rough, chapped hands and brittle nails caused by plunging the hands into hot and cold water and by hanging the family wash out in the wind. Gone are the evenings of morose silence in our family sitting room because it was wash day and mother is too tired to speak a pleasant word.

"The laundry gives me more hours for mothering. I have two children of pre-school age, the most impressionable time in their lives, who need every spare moment for supervision and organized play that a mother can possibly give. I have more hours for pleasant social activities and community work. I let the laundry be the drudge.

"The laundry washes my clothes scientifically. The water used is chemically softened and rigidly treated so that no housewife need fear that even her finest articles will be faded. I trust the laundry with my babies' dainty clothes, most of which I have embroidered in delicate colors and never once have they come back faded. The clothes are whirled dry so that the fabrics will not be injured.

"The laundry also safeguards health. By sterilization, lurking germs are destroyed and the housewife assured of absolute cleanliness.

"Laundry service is cheaper. Counting the labor of the wife at even twenty-five cents an hour, or the wage per hour of the laundress plus the inconvenience and expense incurred by her, plus materials and depreciation of equipment, there can be no doubt of it.

"The laundry saves time, saves health, saves money, saves clothes. Those reasons should be sufficient to convince the housewife that her laundry is a community blessing."

Now is the time to send your Curtains, Blankets, Pillows and the like, to the Laundry. It will make your spring housecleaning easier. We have the equipment to do excellent work.
